

More Harmful Than Alcohol

Overeating Worst Form of Intemperance.

If your food is undigested, you are underfed, no matter how much you eat. And the underfed man is, to the extent of the underfeeding, crippled for the battle of life. On the other hand, there is such a thing as overeating. The harm done by indigestion caused by overloading the stomach exceeds that from the increased heart beats caused by the use of alcohol or whiskey.

Eat as much good food as you need but don't overload the stomach. If your stomach is weak it may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you ought to use a good digestant like Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics contained in Kodol Dyspepsia Cure soon restore health. You don't have to diet. Don't eat too much. That's harmful. But eat enough and of sufficient variety. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest it. It quickly relieves the sensation of fullness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. It prevents belching and absolutely cures indigestion and other stomach troubles. Equally good for children.

Lemuel James, Marysville, O., says: "I suffered from dyspepsia for thirty years but a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure completely cured me and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from this disease."

WILL QUIET DOWN

Operation of New Government Act to Settle Philippine Problem.

THE VIEW OF AN EXPERT

Chairman Cooper of the House Committee on Insular Affairs Talks of New Bill's Provisions.

He Shares Gov. Taft's Views That This Will Effectually Quiet the Filipinos.

Washington, July 3.—Chairman Cooper of the house committee on insular affairs says steps will be taken at once to put the Philippine government act in operation.

"The first step," said Mr. Cooper, "will be the complete transfer of authority from the military to the civil officials except in the Moro country, where there is some lingering disorder. The transfer will be accomplished by a proclamation from the president, which it is understood will be issued on the fourth of July. Beside turning over the authority to the civil officials, the change will permit a considerable reduction of the military force in the islands, although orders already given contemplate a reduction to 18,000 men. In 1900 we had 70,000 men in the Philippines, so that we soon will have reduced the force by 52,000 officers and men, and the transfer of authority and the act doubtless will lead to a further reduction before long.

"The next step will be to take the census as provided by the act. Governor Taft told me this work would begin as soon as he reached Manila. His plan is to have the work done as far as possible by Filipinos, and the commission will get up their own census system instead of having it done by the census office at Washington, although they are empowered to get census experts from here by making application to the president.

The purpose, however, is to make the work thoroughly a local one, so that it will serve the Filipinos as an object lesson. This will take about a year.

"As to the general effect of the act we have just enacted," added Mr. Cooper, "I share the view of Governor Taft, who said that if this bill became a law we would hear no more of the Philippines than we do of Porto Rico and that the Philippine problem would gradually disappear."

Mr. Cooper has received the following telegram from President J. H. Schurman of Cornell, who was head of the first Philippine commission: "Cordial congratulations on your splendid victory in securing a legislative assembly for the Filipinos. Our commission recommended it. Your bill shows constructive statesmanship of the highest order. Filipinos will bless you forever."

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Friars' Question Seems to Be In a Way to Settlement.

Washington, July 3.—The news from Rome received at the war department in the shape of daily cablegrams from Governor Taft is generally encouraging. It is said that while no details can be given out for publication in this incomplete state of the negotiations, it is evident that they are proceeding with the greatest activity, principally in the shape of verbal exchanges, though for the sake of the record these are generally supplemented by written notes, showing in condensed form the substance of what has been said. It is stated the notes fail to show that any insuperable obstacle has been encountered.

A Valuable Franchise.

Youngstown, O., July 3.—Messrs. Park and Hamilton of this city have received a cablegram from their representative in Havana announcing that franchises have been granted them authorizing them to construct and operate electric street railway lines through the city of Havana. The concessions are said to be worth fully $25,000,000 and include all the franchises in the city of Havana.

He Will Apologize.

Eldorado, Kan., July 3.—N. R. Cady, editor of the Augusta Journal, was yesterday fined $10 and costs for contempt of court for having criticized Judge Aikman for not granting a change of venue for Jessie Morrison at her recent trial for the murder of Mrs. Castle. Judge Aikman assessed a light fine upon the editor's promise to publish an apology.

An Open Switch.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—Five persons were injured and others had narrow escapes yesterday when a south-bound Illinois Central passenger train ran into an open switch at Madison and collided with a freight train of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad. The passenger locomotive and several freight cars were demolished.

'Cause Unknown.

Bowie, Tex., July 3.—J. T. Gilgore, at one time chief of police of Chattanooga, Tenn., shot and killed his wife yesterday afternoon and then committed suicide. The tragedy occurred while the funeral services of Mr. Gilgore's physician were being held next door. The cause is unknown.

THE OPENING GUN

Senator Fairbanks Invited to Fire It in Coming Campaign.

Indianapolis, July 3.—Senator Fairbanks and some of the Republican members of congress arrived here last night from Washington, all pleased that the long and tiresome session is at an end. After a few weeks' rest, however, they expect to enter the campaign. The honor of making the opening speech of the campaign will be tendered to Senator Fairbanks. This is regarded as his year, as the legislature elected this campaign will have the selection of his successor. If the senior senator does not make the opening speech he will probably extend an invitation to some prominent man to perform that function. Chairman Goodrich says meetings will be held in as many counties as possible Sept. 20, the date selected for the opening. Of course it will not be possible to have a prominent speaker in each county, but a number will be secured. Senator Beveridge did not arrive here with other members of the delegation, as he will remain awhile at Washington.

The fact that Louis T. Michener of Washington, former attorney general of Indiana, has announced that his firm, Dudley & Michener, will ask for 10 per cent of the $635,000 allowed the state, has not created much concern among state officials. It had been expected, as Dudley & Michener and A. B. Hord of New York, who was associated with them, intimated some time ago that they would file a claim for 10 per cent on the ground that they are entitled to that much for the effort they made ten years ago to collect it. But Governor Durbin, Auditor Hart and Attorney General Taylor, who worked for more than a year to get the claim before congress, do not propose to yield to Michener and his associates without a legal battle. This may delay the state in getting the money, but they do not propose to give up unless the highest authorities command. Auditor Hart takes the position that the claim allowed recently is altogether new and is not the same that Michener, Dudley and Hord tried to collect. The state finance committee expected to apply the $635,000 to the state debt next week, but the action of the Washington attorneys will probably delay them.

J. M. Johnston and Charles Spry, well-known politicians and business men of Logansport, were here last night. Johnston is chairman of the Cass county Republican committee. Both Johnston and Spry are enthusiastic admirers of Fred Landis, the Republican nominee for congress in District 11. Johnston helped manage Landis' campaign. "All the talk you hear about Landis not being strong in the district is nonsense," said Johnston. "I will venture the prediction that he will carry the district by a much greater majority than was ever received by Major Steele. Landis proposes to make a thorough canvass of his district. He is a great mixer, and there is no doubt but that he will poll a larger vote in Cass and Miami counties than the Republicans have been receiving there." Landis was suddenly taken ill in the middle of a speech a short time ago, but Johnston says he has fully recovered and is in fine condition for the campaign.

Warren Bigler of Wabash, formerly secretary of the Republican state committee, spent a part of yesterday at headquarters. It seemed natural to see him there, although he is not dealing actively in politics this year. Bigler has just returned from a Southern trip. A year ago he invested in Mississippi and Louisiana lands, and it is said the deal has turned out well for him. Bigler, however, is not the only Indiana man who is placing his money in Southern lands. He says himself that it offers a good field and many people from the North are buying in a year ago good land in both Mississippi and Louisiana could have been purchased for $10 an acre, but the price is rapidly advancing. The fact that Northern men are taking hold of the land is probably responsible for the advance in its value.

Wisconsin Tornado.

Racine, Wis., July 3.—The country in this county from the town of Raymond east to Husher in the township of Caledonia, a distance of ten miles and about half a mile in width, was swept by a tornado late yesterday afternoon. One man was killed; several persons injured; forty houses and barns were wrecked; thirty or forty head of stock killed; hundreds of trees blown down; hundreds of acres of grain ruined and other damage done amounting to possibly $40,000.

Pigeons' Long Flight.

Pueblo, Col., July 3.—Twelve of the fastest homing pigeons in the country have been released at Pueblo to make the longest official race against time ever attempted. The race will be from Pueblo to Cleveland, a distance of 1,565 miles. The birds belong to Al Fox, secretary of the Cleveland Homing Pigeon association.

Judge Chase Dead.

Logansport, Ind., July 3.—D. H. Chase, judge of the Cass circuit court was found dead in bed at his home in this city. Death was due to internal injuries sustained by a fall Monday evening.

Drowned in Pool.

Anderson, Ind., July 3.—Milton Hamm, 30 years old, near Markleville, subject to fainting spells, fell face downward into a shallow pool and was suffocated.

A HEATED DEBATE

Irish Land Question Comes Up in the British House of Commons.

GROANS AND CHEERS

Mixed Sentiments Expressed in Parliament Over Discussion of the Old and Vexing Question.

Claim Is Made That the Agitation Is Kept Up By Those Who Have Mercenary Motives.

London, July 3.—A long and heated debate on the Irish land question was precipitated in the house of commons last night. Thomas W. Russell, Liberal moved the adjournment of the house to discuss the pending evictions from the estate of Lord DeFreynce in Roscommon county, in connection with which that nobleman recently had writs issued against several members of the Irish parliamentary party, whom he charged with conspiracy.

Mr. Russell declared that unless the government intervened to prevent these evictions an era of turmoil would be inaugurated in the west of Ireland, where there was trouble enough already. He said that he had visited the DeFreynce estate three times and that he was thoroughly convinced of the injustice under which the tenants suffered. The people there were the poorest of the poor. He believed one word from Mr. Wyndham, the chief secretary for Ireland, would settle the whole trouble, and he thought the reduction of the rents collected on the estate by 33 per cent would not be excessive for those bog lands which were now renting for more money than was obtained for desirable land in Ulster county.

Mr. Wyndham replied with some asperity that he was surprised to find Mr. Russell siding against law and order. The rents from the DeFreynce estate, he said, had been reduced 37 per cent in the last twenty years, and he knew that some of the organizers were making money out of the agitation. His advice to the tenants was to pay up. This statement was greeted with groans from the Irish members. Hundreds had paid up, said Mr. Wyndham, and this remark was received with Conservative cheers. Many more would like to pay, the chief secretary added, but they were intimidated. Mr. Wyndham said it was impossible to carry out the land purchase scheme in Ireland when it was interrupted by agitators who desired to make government reform impossible.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader in the house, characterized Mr. Wyndham's statement as paltry and flippant. He declared that whatever money was paid in rentals on the DeFreynce estates was earned by the male population working in England during the harvest season, and he contended that the government was directly responsible for the happenings on the DeFreynce property. After other members of the house had spoken on the subject Mr. Russell's motion for an adjournment was defeated by 231 votes to 132.

EDWARD'S CONDITION

England's King Listens to March of Colonial Troops.

London, July 3.—King Edward passed another good day yesterday. The quiet and routine of the sick-room was varied by the excitement of listening to the music and cheers of the Indian troops as they marched past the palace and greeted Queen Alexandra on the balcony. King Edward demanded a full account of the review, and the formal report made by the Prince of Wales was supplemented by a personal narrative of the queen. His majesty dictated a letter to the Duke of Connaught, commanding him to compliment the colonial troops upon their excellent appearance and to thank them for their expressions of loyalty and sympathy which he had heard with pleasure in his sick-room. King Edward was somewhat disappointed that he was not able to see march past of the troops. He had hoped that this would be possible from an invalid couch in a window of the palace, but the doctors were unwilling that he should risk this exposure and excitement, and his majesty had to content himself with hearing the troops without seeing them.

Roberts Routed Them.

London, July 3.—The time limit of forty-eight hours given by Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief, to the cadets of the royal military college, Sandhurst, to deliver up those who have been guilty of starting the many recent fires at the college, in default of which the "rustication" of all the cadets was to be ordered, expired last night. It is understood that twenty-seven cadets will leave immediately, but the war office is endeavoring to suppress all information on the subject.

Suicide Due to Remorse.

Cincinnati, July 3.—The body of August Uttwiler, who shot and killed his roommate, James Collins, last Sunday night, and then escaped, was found in the Ohio river here last night. A wound in the head showed that Uttwiler had shot himself before throwing himself into the river.

HIS LAST ASCENT

"The Human Bomb" Came Down Out of the Usual Order.

Louisville, July 3.—In the presence of 5,000 spectators witnessing an open air performance of the "Last Days of Pompeii" on the common opposite Churchill Downs last night, James Dull, known as the "human bomb," received injuries which will probably result in his death. It is Dull's part of the performance to be hurled high in the air by a bomb which explodes, releasing a parachute by which the performer returns to earth. Last night the bomb was shot into the air as usual, but when it reached its greatest height it failed to explode and started to the earth with the victim unable to release himself. As the missile was within 100 feet of the ground it suddenly exploded and to the horror of the spectators, Dull was dashed to the earth and the performance brought to a close. When the victim was picked up it was found that his back was broken. He was taken to the city hospital.

HE FOUND OUT

Chicago Boy Discovers That Fire Swallowing Is An Art.

Chicago, July 3.—Trying to imitate an Egyptian fire swallower, Harry Loughren, 12 years old, poured burning gasoline over himself and six other children last night and as the result the boy and one other child probably will die. Of the others one only escaped injury—a girl who dropped without being hurt from the porch balustrade, 30 feet from the ground, after tearing off her skirt, frantic to avoid another child who was running toward her with clothing ablaze. The boy's mother was burned so badly in stripping the burning clothing from him that she also may die. After a hard struggle the flames were extinguished by neighbors who ran to the assistance of the children.

Passed Over in Silence.

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—The platform adopted yesterday at the Democratic state convention deals almost entirely with state issues, prominence being given to the liquor question. The Kansas City platform is passed over in silence, and the name of W. J. Bryan is not mentioned.

HE PAID THE "FINE"

Trades Unions "Try" a Merchant and Impose Penalty Which He Meets.

BOYCOTTS STILL EXIST

Action of Unions in the Terre Haute District Leads to Some Extreme Measures.

Singular Case of a Merchant Who Was Subjected to a Money Fine By Unions.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 3.—The Terre Haute labor leaders say there is much exaggeration in the reports of boycotts at Clinton growing out of the Terre Haute street railway strike. There is a boycott on two stores, on one because it is owned by Terre Haute men who are members of the Citizens' Protective League, and on the other because the proprietor is said to have ridden on Terre Haute street cars. The boycott in western and southwestern Indiana on merchants that patronize Terre Haute league merchants is most rigorous. At the convention here a few days ago one of the delegates told how at his town the trade union "tried" a merchant on a charge of having ridden on a Terre Haute street car and fined him $10, which he paid, and the money was sent to the strike fund.

PLUCKY YOUNG WOMAN

In Defense of Self and Children Myrtle Smith Shoots to Kill.

Kokomo, Ind., July 3.—In a desperate effort to protect herself and her children, Myrtle Smith, colored, aged eighteen, shot and fatally wounded her stepfather, Alfred Melton, yesterday. Melton is a colored prize-fighter of considerable reputation. He went to the home of his divorced wife, who lives with her daughter, and demanded admittance. As he had threatened several times to kill the whole family, this was refused. Thereupon he broke open the door and knocked his stepdaughter down with a chair. She had her two small children with her and in protection she shot Melton twice, inflicting wounds from which he cannot recover. The plucky young woman was also painfully hurt by the blows received from the infuriated man. One of the babies was seriously injured by being stepped on during the melee.

Mutinous Orphans.

Marion, Ind., July 3.—Five boys and four girls, inmates of the Grant County Orphan home, dissatisfied with the management of the new matron, Jennie Porter, stole two or three pocket books belonging to officials and escaped from the institution. They range in age from twelve to thirteen, and one of the girls is nearly blind.

Dangerous Chemistry.

Logansport, Ind., July 3.—While the family were cleaning house bottles filled with nitric and carbolic acid were found by a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lebo, who poured the contents together, causing an explosion, in which her eyes were seriously and perhaps permanently injured. The girl is twelve years old.

Small Game Profits.

Oolitic, Ind., July 3.—The local sportsmen are remarking on the universal plumpness of squirrels and quail, and many say that this is due to feeding on locusts. The heavy rains prior to the recent disappearance of the locust washed millions of them into the streams, and the fish gorged themselves.

Town's Second Loss.

Goshen, Ind., July 3.—Shipshewana, in Lagrange county, was visited by a disastrous fire which consumed seven business rooms and contents. The total loss may reach $40,000, with but $8,000 insurance. The same district was burned over in May, 1900, entailing a loss of $45,000.

Woman Stung to Death.

Madison, Ind., July 3.—Mrs. John Moore, aged 85, was stung to death by the bees from seven or eight hives, at her home near here, and stung to death. A daughter who went to her rescue is in a critical condition. She was the mother of Frank Moore, a well-known horseman.

His Sanity Questioned.

Elwood, Ind., July 3.—James McGinniss, a brick mason, feels called upon to convert the world, and applied to Father Biegel, pastor of St. Joseph's church, for information how to do the work properly. A lunacy commission will be held to determine his condition.

Herbert Retaken.

Washington, Ind., July 3.—One of the escaped prisoners, Joseph Herbert, accused of the brutal murder of Louis Cunningham, has been captured. Herbert was captured at the home of his father-in-law, John Campton, where he had gone to see his wife.

A Fatal Dose.

Sullivan, Ind., July 3.—The two-year old child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pigz swallowed some morphine tablets and was dying before discovery of his condition by the mother.

THEY OPPOSE IT

Proposition For Sympathetic Strike Not Favored in Kentucky.

Louisville, July 3.—The United Mine Workers of Kentucky will not sanction the calling of a sympathetic strike. Reliable information was obtained yesterday that a secret vote had been taken on the matter, with the result that the men declared that they must regard their contracts with the operators. Word of the result has been sent to the Illinois miners, who are understood to have taken the same stand. It should be remembered that the Western Kentucky operators' association and many of the operators have an agreement with the United Mine Workers which fixes a regular scale of wages and which goes into effect April 1 and is renewed yearly. This agreement is drawn jointly and signed by the operators and likewise by the United Mine Workers' officials.

Mitchell's Advice.

Saginaw, Mich., July 3.—The efforts of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America to effect a settlement of the differences in the Michigan district, in which the miners have been out on strike since April 1, have not been as yet entirely successful. President Mitchell addressed a joint conference of operators and mine workers here yesterday afternoon and made an earnest plea to both parties to come to terms. The operators have conceded the wage scale, have offered to increase the pay of firemen 20 cents a day, and have agreed to adopt a uniform wage scale for all help above ground in lieu of the demand for eight hours, but they refuse to abolish the pushing of cars from the entries. President Mitchell left for Wilkesbarre last night. He advised the men to accept the proposition of the operators and end the strike.

Prosecution Begins.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 3.—William Fitzinger was taken before Magistrate Vanhorn at Kingston yesterday, charged with intimidation and conspiracy. The Citizens' Alliance of Wilkesbarre was the prosecutor. He was held in $7,000 bail for court. This is the first prosecution instituted by the alliance, which offers $5,000 in rewards for the arrest and conviction of all boycotters.

THE REPUBLICAN will go to press at noon tomorrow in order that the office force may take a half holiday.

MANY of the stores and other places of business will be closed tomorrow on account of the day being July 4.

TOMORROW is a day when the American flag should be made especially prominent. Hang out your flags.

THE Fourth of July excursion rates went into effect today and the trains through here indicate that travel will be unusually heavy during the next three days.

COL. W. B. ROBERTS, who has been Senator Beveridge's private secretary the past year, has been appointed to a good position in the rural delivery service at Washington and will resign his position with Senator Beveridge.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

There will be no local freight tomorrow.

The old Southern Indiana depot at the crossing has been reeroofed and otherwise improved.

Frank Gilbert, of the B. & O. S.-w., who moved his family to Mitchell a short time ago, has moved back and occupies the George Walkup property on East Fourth street.

Wednesday night Pennsylvania train No. 3, passing here at 10:15 p. m., collided with a Big Four passenger train at the Delaware street crossing in Indianapolis. The engines were right badly wrecked but no one on either train was hurt, except that Engineer Wetzel, of the Pennsylvania, received a few scratches on his face. The collision was the result of misreading the signals, each engineer thinking the track was clear.

Grocery Stores Close.

Tomorrow being July 4 all the grocery stores in the city will be closed during the entire day. The people should not forget this and lay in their supplies before the stores close tonight.

New Wheat Coming In.

Wheat threshing began in earnest in this vicinity today. Some of the wheat is in good merchantable condition and some is still a little damp. The Blush Milling Company received one lot of 325 bushels from Frank Stockover today that is an extra fine quality. It was run through the cleaner and cleaned out only eight pounds. Valentine Fox is bringing in 400 bushels which was also in splendid condition and an extra fine grade of wheat. The Blush Mill has also received about 15,000 bushels of wheat from Southern Illinois, which was threshed before the rains which is of splendid quality.

J. H. Hodapp has also received several hundred bushels and was loading his first car of new wheat today. He is getting in some very fine wheat. Mr. Hodapp completed threshing the wheat on his own place south of town today. His whole crop turned out well and the quality was excellent.

Another day or two like this and all the wheat in the shock will be in good condition for threshing.

Holiness Meeting.

There will be an all day holiness meeting in Rapp's grove at Rockford tomorrow. Mrs. Wines, of White-land, will be in charge and will be assisted by Rev. E. Barrett and others. ## POOR AND BIG HEARTED.

Specimens of the Hospitality of the Southern Mountaineer.

The latchstring hangs outside every cabin door if the men folk are at home, but you must shout "Hello!" always outside the fence.

"We uns is pore," you will be told, "but y'n're welcome of y'u kin put up with what we have."

After a stay of a week at a mountain cabin a young "furriner" asked what his bill was. The old mountaineer waved his hand. "Nothin," he said, "cept com ag'n!"

A belated traveler asked to stay all night at a cabin. The mountaineer answered that his wife was sick, and they were "sorter out of fixin's to eat, but he reckoned he mought step over to a neighbor's an borrow some." He did step over, and he was gone three hours. He brought back a little bag of meal, and they had corn bread and potatoes for supper and for breakfast, cooked by the mountaineer. The stranger asked how far away his next neighbor lived. "A leetle the rise of six miles, I reckon," was the answer. "Which way?"

"Oh, jes' over the mountain thar."

He had stepped six miles over the mountain and back for that little bag of meal, and he would allow his guest to pay nothing next morning.

I have slept with nine others in a single room. The host gave up his bed to two of our party, and he and his wife slept with the rest of us on the floor. He gave us supper, kept us all night, sent us away next morning with a parting draft of moonshine applejack, of his own brewing, by the way, and would suffer no one to pay a cent for his entertainment. That man was a desperado, an outlaw, a moonshiner and was running from the sheriff at that very time.

Two outlaw sons were supposed to have been killed by officers. I offered aid to the father to have them decently clothed and buried, but the old man, who was as bad as his sons, declined it left for that, and if not, why, he had—"The Southern Mountaineer," by John Fox, Jr., in Scribner's.

A Picturesque Mountain.

In Surry county, N. C., there is a mountain whose outline displays a striking likeness to the sphinx of Egypt. It is in the northwestern part of the state, just east of the Blue Ridge range, and lies prone upon the Piedmont plains. At a distance of ten miles the figure is the exact counterpart of that of a gigantic lion, its body at right angles to the precipitous ridge and with head reared aloft as if in the act of rising.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. ## AN OWL STORY.

Showing the Tyrannous Effect of Habit Upon a Wild Animal.

An English publication tells this interesting story of an owl:

A vague figure appeared out of the clouds, traveling against the wind toward the spire and looking more like a ragged piece of newspaper whirled about the heavens than any living thing. It was a white owl, and after watching him for some time I came to the conclusion that he was trying to get to the vane of the spire. A very idle ambition it seemed, for, although he succeeded again and again in getting to within a few yards of the point aimed at, he was on each occasion struck by a fresh violent gust and driven back to a great distance, often quite out of sight in the gloom. But presently he would reappear, still struggling to reach the vane. A crazy bird!

But I could not help admiring his pluck and greatly wondered what his secret motive in aiming at that windy perch could be. And at last, after so many defeats, he succeeded and grasped the metal crossbar with his crooked talons. The wind with all its fury could not tear him from it, and after a little flapping he was able to pull himself up, and then, bending down, he deliberately wiped his beak on the bar and flew away!

This, then, had been his powerful, mysterious motive—just to wipe his beak, which he could very well have wiped on any branch or barn roof or fence and saved himself that tremendous labor. This was an extreme instance of that tyrannous effect of habit on a wild animal. Doubtless this bird had been accustomed after devouring his first mouse to fly to the vane, where he could rest for a few minutes, taking a general view of the place, and wipe his beak at the same time, and the habit had become so strong that he could not forego his visit even on so tempestuous an evening.

THE COPYRIGHT LAW.

First Measure Passed For the Protection of Literary Property.

April 10, 1710, is a noteworthy date in the history of literature. On that day came into operation an act "for the encouragement of learning by vesting the copies of printed books in the authors or purchasers of such copies." This was the first measure passed for the protection of literary property. The word "copyright," according to Dr. Murray, was not used before 1767. In the preamble of the bill, which is said to have been drafted by Dean Swift, the necessity of a measure "to enable learned men to write useful books" is dwelt upon. By its provisions two terms of copyright, each of fourteen years, were created for all future publications, one term to follow immediately upon the other if the author were still living at the expiration of the first term.

According to a subsidiary clause, if any publisher issued a book at a price judged too high by certain "discreet persons" he was liable to a penalty. The "discreet persons" included, among others, the archbishop of Canterbury, the lord chancellor and the vice chancellors of Oxford and Cambridge. On them devolved the somewhat delicate task of fixing the book's value. This clause was repealed in 1739, but the term of copyright remained unaltered until 1842, when it was extended to the life of the author and seven years, or forty-two years from the date of publication, whichever may prove longer. England was the first country thus to protect the rights of authors. France followed suit in 1793, but in Germany no copyright law existed until 1870—London News.

Missed a Good Dinner.

A doctor living in a certain country town was notoriously fond of good living. He had accepted an invitation to dine with friends, but as he climbed their steps he smelt venison cooking in the kitchen next door.

The neighbors being also his friends he resolved to drop in on them unexpectedly to partake of the venison. They pressed him to share their informal dinner, but when he refused both soup and fish his host began to apologize for the simple fare.

The doctor then confessed that he was waiting for the venison, which he had smelt as he came in.

"Oh, that venison," said his entertainer, "we were roasting to oblige our neighbors, who have a dinner party next door."—London Answers.

A Mountain Climber.

At a reception of the Authors' club in New York the guest of honor was Sir Martin Conway, the explorer and mountain climber. One man who did not know the guest asked another: "Who is he tonight?"

"Sir Martin Conway."

"Conway? Who is he? I can't place him."

"The mountain climber."

"Oh, yes! But what is he doing in New York?"

"Merely traveling from climb to climb."

Butter In the West Indies.

Every pound of butter that goes to the West Indies is colored a brilliant red. The daries over there won't have any other color. They like red butter just as they adore red shirts and red ties or the red label on a tomato tin. Grocers say that if a black and white label should be placed on tinned tomatoes, there would be no sale at all.—London Chronicle.

A Guess.

"Say, pop," inquired Willie, "why do we call women the opposite sex?"

"I guess," replied the old man thoughtfully, "it's because they're contrary."—Philadelphia Record.

Taking Depositions.

Hon. W. R. Gardner, C. K. Tharp and Charles Gardner, of Washington, were here today and before Judge F. W. Wesner took the depositions of Allen Swope, Phil Meigh, T. S. Blish and James Phillips in the suit brought to test the legality of certain transfers of real estate by Dallas Tyler about the time the suits against him and other gamblers at Washington were brought. The purpose seems to be to get hold of this property to satisfy the judgment obtained by Mrs. R. C. Davis against Tyler.

Portable Pantry Mystery.

Dr. W. N. Rodman has a very mysterious clock. He purchased it with a one of the famous portable pantries, which gained so much notoriety in this county a few years ago. For more than two years past the clock would not run and all efforts to start it were of no avail. A few nights ago, he informs us, the clock started to run of its own accord and has been keeping good time ever since.—Brownstown Banner.

The Schwartz School.

The business school, opened here June 19th, is doing excellent work. There are thirty-six students enrolled in the business and shorthand departments, with the prospect of a few more in a few days. The instructors are thoroughly competent and are affording our young people an excellent opportunity for business education.

Schwartz School News.

Thirty-seven students have enrolled to date. Quite a number have promised to begin next Monday.

Otto Horst is a student who does not believe in luck; he realizes that it takes pluck and hard work to succeed.

Walter Hoskins and Charles Harvey are a strong team, and are leading the class in bookkeeping at a lively gait.

If diligent application counts for anything, all of the students in attendance will be successful young men and women when they enter business life.

Cortland is represented by three hard-working, earnest students: Everett Holmes, Claude Brocker and Walter Beck. If Cortland has any more such boys, let her send them on.

From Brownstown three students have enrolled who are hustlers and willing workers: they are Miss Cranaman, Miss Robertson and Mr. Hamilton.

Miss Kate A. Schulz, the efficient shorthand teacher, is very popular with the students and is making friends rapidly during her stay in Seymour.

Misses, Spray, McGinty, Massman, Fox, Abel, Adair, Schepman and Messrs. Whitcomb, Vogel and Horst are taking the combined Bookkeeping, Shorthand and Penmanship Course, and are doing creditable work and lots of it.

Everyone in and about Seymour is cordially invited to visit the school any school day from 8 to 12 M., and from 7 to 9 P. M.

Mention of other students and their work will be made in our next letter.

FIRM FOUNDATION.

Nothing can Undermine it in Seymour.

People are something slow to recognize true merit and they cannot be blamed for so many in the past have been a humbugged. The experience of hundreds of Seymour residents expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources places Doan's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation.

Mr. M. H. Ahlbrand of south Walnut street, implement and machine salesman, says: Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy I had a great deal of lameness in my back off and on for years. In the winter of 1898 my back was very bad and I went to Milhous' drug store and procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I never used any medicine so prompt in relieving me. The treatment strengthened my kidneys and relieved the backache besides toning up my general health. I have never felt better in my life. My wife also suffered from backache and on taking this preparation she was as greatly benefited as I.

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the Doan's and take no other.

THE VARSITY

Is a good name for the Swagger Oxford of the famous brand

The college girls, the athletic girls and women who walk are all partial to this style of shoe

The leather in THE VARSITY is called Black Russia. It is smooth calf skin with open pores, making it cool. It polishes beautifully.
